

LANGUAGE AND COMMUNICATION RESOURCE UNIT

Would excellent language and communication skills help your career progression and increase your satisfaction at work?

Our FREE, individually tailored English language and communication skills programme will enable you to:

- Carry out consultations in English with greater certainty and self assurance
- Speak more confidently with patients, relatives and other professionals
- Understand and embrace ethical, cultural and legal implications to work more effectively in London's multicultural society

This programme is for you if you want to:

- Get more positive feedback from patients
- Further your professional development and more confidently offer your skills within the NHS
- Reflect on your practice and explore new approaches to the consultation
- Learn alongside an excellent peer group
- Realise your full potential within the NHS

The programme is free for doctors in training and some other groups of doctors in London. Full details about who can apply are on our website. All levels are catered for.

"I am enjoying my work much more because my patients and I can understand each other so much better"

To find out more, including programme dates, and to apply online visit www.londondeanery.ac.uk/lacru

